

ANDREW CATTO ARCHITECTS

Melissa Lawrence da Cunha

Architect

With 6 years of experience in Brazil, Melissa moved to London where she had her qualifications accredited by the RIBA and become a qualified architect in 2010. Graduated in Brazil in 2001, Melissa had already worked for different practices when she joined GKalili and Freitas in 1999 with this working relationship continuing after graduation. In 2003, she moved to London and joined Andrew Catto architects.

In 2015, she joined two other practices to experience working for high end clients but decided to come back 'home' in 2017 as she always says.

Her experiences rang from helping the client understand their brief to allow us to generate a concept that suits each individual client to manage projects on site. Having been through her own house project gives her the advantage when she guides her clients and hold their hand during this overwhelming process, as she understand and cares about each client and their specific needs.
